Hello Father, I am sending this letter to you to inform you of my enlistment status as well as inform you of my well-being.

I have another 6 years here before I finish my service. I'm not sure what my plans are when I finish, however I will be satisfied to simply complete my service.

I recently finished my aero-infantry training. It was rigorous, but somehow fun despite the prospect of actually using these skills in combat. I think of my mother often now, I'm not sure if she can see me now, but I hope she can. Hopefully she will protect me in my career, I know I'll need it.

They are sending my unit to the Northern theater. I heard it was becoming more dire there since the introduction of anti-aero systems. Either way, I'm nervous.

I heard Ushara will be graduating in 2 quarters, please share this letter with her. The following is for her:

I'm sorry I won't be able to attend your celebration. As your older sister, I am so proud of you for your hard work. Enjoy life, find family, and stay healthy. I pray for your success and I hope to see you next time I am permitted leave. Love, your sister Opnyeshara

I will write to you when I am able to. I pray for your health and for my siblings' health. I also pray for the gods to forgive me for my actions henceforth and to protect me.

Your daughter,
Opnyeshara
